

Garrett Arney, Percussion

Garrett is an active chamber musician, soloist, and educator among some of the most innovative of the time. He currently runs Arx Music Association, or “arx duo”, a 501(c)3 non-profit focused on the creation of new music and engagement with the public.

As a chamber musician, Garrett has been a member of Arx Duo, Sandbox Percussion, Ensemble ACJW, and has performed with groups such as eighth blackbird, American Modern Opera Company, the Dover String Quartet, among others.

He performed the Carnegie Hall Premiere of Steven Mackey’s “Micro Concerto”, as well as in venues such as Royal Albert Concert Hall, Walton Arts Center, and more. He has held adjunct/faculty positions at Peabody Conservatory, Michigan State University, Cleveland State University, University of Central Missouri, and Curtis Young Artist Summer Program.

Garrett is an ambassador for Vic Firth Mallets, Adams Musical Instruments, Pearl Percussion, Zildjian Cymbals, and Evans Drumheads.